Identifying Peer Rejected and Socially Neglected Youth with ASD

- Peer rejection
 - Teasing and bullying
 - Bad reputations
 - Actively seeking out peers
 - ADHD, Mood disorders, Impulse control disorders
- Social neglect
 - Isolated and withdrawn
 - Ignored and unnoticed
 - Actively avoiding peers
 - Anxiety, Depression

(Volkmar & Klin, 1998; Bauminger & Kasari, 2000; Orsmond, Krauss, & Seltzer, 2004; Koning & Magill-Evans, 2001; LeCouteur et al., 1989; Marks, Schrader, Longaker, & Levine, 2000; Ghaziuddin & Gerstein, 1996; Twatchman-Cullen, 1998; Hemphill & Siperstein, 1990; Church, Alisanki, Amanullah, 2000)

Consequences of Peer Rejection

Peer rejection is one of the strongest predictors of:

- Mental health problems
 - Anxiety
 - Depression
- Juvenile delinquency
- Early withdrawal from school

(Buhrmeister, 1990; Matson, Smiroldo, & Bamberg, 1998; Miller & Ingham, 1976)

Consequences of Peer Rejection

- Depression
- Anxiety
- Loneliness
- Low self-esteem
- Substance abuse
- Poor academic performance
- Suicidal ideation
- Suicide attempts

(Hawker & Boulton, 2000; Nansel et al., 2001; Buhrmeister, 1990; Matson, Smiraldo, & Bamburg, 1998; Miller & Ingham, 1976)

Bullying and Peer Victimization Among Adolescents with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD)

- Teens with ASD are NINE times more likely to experience peer victimization than “non-disabled” peers
- 94% of teens with ASD report experiencing some form of peer victimization in the previous year
- Teens with ASD and comorbid ADHD are FOUR times more likely to engage in bullying behavior
 - Teens with ASD without ADHD do not differ from typically developing teens in rates of engaging in bullying behavior

Risk Factors for Peer Rejection Among Adolescents with ASD

High Risk Factors:

- Less socially competent
- Fewer friendships
- Less peer support
 - Less bystander support

Protective Factors:

- Friendships are known to protect against victimization

The Science of Making Friends
(Laugeson, 2013)

Defining Bullying

- Subtype of aggression
- Negative actions directed at a student or groups of students that are either:
 - Repetitive
 - Chronic
 - Characterized by power imbalance
- Bullying behaviors take on a variety of forms including:
 - Physical
 - Verbal
 - Relational (rumor spreading, social exclusion)
 - Electronic (cyber bullying)

Clinical Example: Teasing

QUESTIONS:

What are most children and teens told to do in response to teasing?

What do most children and teens with ASD do in response to teasing?

Rules for Handling Teasing

- Do not walk away, ignore the person, or tell an adult
- Don't show you're upset or tease back
- Act like what the person said did not bother you
- Provide a SHORT COMEBACK that shows what the person said was lame:
 - Whatever!
 - Anyway...
 - So what?
 - Big deal!
 - Who cares?
 - Yeah and?
 - And your point is?
 - Am I supposed to care?
 - Is that supposed to be funny?
 - (Shrug shoulders)
 - (Roll eyes)
- Then walk away or remove yourself

(Laugeson & Frankel, 2010; Laugeson, 2013; Laugeson, 2014)

Clinical Example: Physical Bullying

QUESTIONS:

What are most teens told to do in response to physical bullying?

What do most teens with ASD do in response to physical bullying?

Avoiding Physical Bullying

- Avoid the bully
 - Stay out of reach of the bully
 - If the bully can't find you, he can't bully you
- Plan your route
- Lay low when the bully is around
 - Don't draw attention to yourself
 - If the bully doesn't notice you, he won't bully you
- Don't provoke the bully
 - Don't use the strategies for teasing with the bully
- Don't tease the bully
- Don't police the bully
 - Don't tell on the bully for minor offenses
 - Discretely tell an adult if someone is in danger
- Don't try to make friends with the bully
- Hang out with other teens
 - Bullies like to pick on teens who are by themselves
- Stay near adults when the bully is around
- Get help from an adult

(Laugeson & Frankel, 2010; Laugeson, 2013; Laugeson, 2014)

Clinical Example: Cyber Bullying

QUESTIONS:

What are most teens told to do in response to cyber bullying?

What do cyber bullies want their victims to do?

Addressing Cyber Bullying

- Don't feed the trolls
- Don't react
- Have friends stick up for you
- Lay low online
- Block the bully
- Save the evidence
- Get help from supportive adults
- Report cyber bullying to the proper authorities
 - Webmasters
 - Service providers
 - School
 - Law enforcement (extreme cases)

(Laugeson & Frankel, 2010; Laugeson, 2013; Laugeson, 2014)

PEERS[®] Handling Rumors & Gossip

How to avoid being the target of gossip:

- Avoid being friends with gossips
- Don't be enemies with the gossips
- Be as neutral as possible with the gossips
- Don't spread rumors or gossip about people

(Laugeson & Frankel, 2010; Laugeson, 2013; Laugeson, 2014)

Clinical Example: Rumors and Gossip

QUESTIONS:

What do most adults tell children and teens to do when they are the target of rumors and gossip?

What is the natural response to someone spreading a rumor about you?

PEERS[®] Handling Rumors & Gossip

What to do if you're the target of gossip:

- Every instinct we have is WRONG
- Don't try to disprove the gossip
- Don't show that you're upset
- Don't confront the source of the gossip
- Avoid the source of the gossip
- Act amazed anyone would BELIEVE or CARE about the gossip
 - “I can't believe anyone would believe that.”
 - “Can you believe anyone cares about that?”

(Laugeson & Frankel, 2010;
Laugeson, 2013; Laugeson,
2014)

PEERS[®] Handling Rumors & Gossip

Spread the rumor about yourself:

1. Find an audience
2. Find a supportive friend
3. Acknowledge the rumor
 - “Did you hear this rumor...?”
4. Act amazed anyone would BELIEVE or CARE about the rumor
 - “I can’t believe anyone believes that.”
 - “People are so gullible.”
 - “People need to find something interesting to talk about.”
 - “People need to get a life.”
5. Repeat with other supportive friends

(Laugeson & Frankel, 2010; Laugeson, 2013; Laugeson, 2014)
