Do you have staff who are new to providing services to students with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) and/or other Complex Learning Needs? If so, you may be interested in this professional development opportunity!

TASN Autism and Tertiary Behavior Supports is pleased to announce the release of Autism 101!

The Autism 101 modules provide learners with an overview of:

- The characteristics of autism
- How to create an environment that supports the neurology of ASD
- The impact of ASD on communication and how to support it
- The impact of ASD on behavior and how to support it
- How to individualize instruction in the area of social engagement

This professional development opportunity is flexible!

- The modules may be completed by individuals asynchronously (approximately three hours to complete).
- Professional Learning Communities may complete the modules asynchronously and discuss the content by using the supports provided in the Facilitation Guide.
- The modules can be facilitated by your trainer using the annotated Facilitation Guide and slide decks.

This information is designed to provide providers with a few strategies to help them successfully complete the modules. These modules are not designed to be a comprehensive course on ASD and/or Evidenced Based Practices; nor are all strategies covered appropriate for all students.
